REPLACE COPY - DO NOT DESTROY

More radio actors are needed to fill out the Desitany Speaks series of horror plays over WOCD's Half Hour Before Midnight programs. The casting for these plays is type-casting and tryouts are held only once every six weeks. In order to give any interested students an opportunity to take part in these dramatic half hours, tryouts will be held in the WOCD studios from 7:30 to 10:30 (Tuesday night)(tonight). The plays are presented each Sunday night at 11:30 by a group of actors called the Studio Players. The time required will be about three hours every two weeks. All interested in this sort of work are urged to come up for tryouts (tomorrow night) (tonight) in the WOCD studios in the Yale News Building. Previous experience is helpful, but not necessary.
